

Langer Construction joined the team after the project was fully designed and unfortunately over budget. Through value engineering, Langer presented a list of options to the owner for review which brought the project back in budget. This 19,000 square foot precast manufacturing addition included 4,000 square feet of office space, new metal and glass entrance, and new parking and loading docks.